MID-CONTINENT CONFERENCE

In its 22nd year as an NCAA Division I athletics league, the Mid-Continent Conference enters an exciting new era in 2003-04. Established in 1982 as the Association of Mid-Continent Universities (AMCU), the Mid-Con has built a reputation in the world of intercollegiate athletics as a nationally competitive and well respected league. This year, it welcomes its first new member institution in six years, and, for the first time in a decade, will have a new face in the Commissioner's office.

The Mid-Con's member schools - Centenary College of Louisiana, Chicago State University, IUPUI (Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis), UMKC (University of Missouri-Kansas City), Oakland University, Oral Roberts University, Southern Utah University, Valparaiso University and Western Illinois University - are located primarily in the Midwest's largest urban areas, and pride themselves on providing quality athletic, academic and social experiences for their student-athletes.

The Mid-Con was founded in 1982, when eight universities banded together to form an NCAA Division I conference. Under the direction of the league's first commissioner, F.L. "Frosty" Ferzacca, the AMCU-8 and its members sponsored nine men's championship sports in that first season. The league's initial line-up included Cleveland State, Eastern Illinois, Illinois-Chicago, Northern Iowa, Southwest Missouri State, Valparaiso, Western Illinois and Wisconsin-Green Bay.

The league's first ten years saw a variety of highlights, including a name change to the now familiar Mid-Continent Conference in 1990. The AMCU first received national attention in 1986, when Cleveland State used its 27-3 record to earn an at-large invitation to the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament. The Vikings put the Conference on the map with a stunning 83-79 upset of No. 3 seed Indiana, on their way to a "Sweet 16" appearance.

The league experienced a change in leadership in 1988, when Ferzacca stepped down as the AMCU-8 commissioner. Jerry Ippoliti took over the reins, and guided the Conference into its second decade. Two years after Ippoliti took over as Commissioner, the Mid-Con sent a conference-record three members to men's basketball postseason play in 1990.

The Mid-Con celebrated its 10-year anniversary in 1991-92, and did so in part by announcing plans to debut six women's championship sports the following year. Mid-Con membership reached its peak at ten members during the 1993-94 campaign. The league withstood a major change in membership following the 1993-94 season when six schools departed, but that record number stayed consistent for a total of three years thanks to six new members that joined prior to the 1995-96 season. Current members Chicago State and UMKC were two of the schools chosen to replace the departed institutions in 1994.

Dr. Jon Steinbrecher became the Mid-Con's third Commissioner in 1994, and he spearheaded a major change in the league's membership during his league-record nine-year tenure. Five new members have joined the Mid-Con in the last six years - Oral Roberts and Southern Utah both came on board in 1997, IUPUI and Oakland joined the following year, and Centenary will begin Mid-Con competition this season after accepting an invitation to become the league's ninth member institution in the fall of 2002. Steinbrecher left the Mid-Con in the spring of 2003 to take the same position with the Ohio Valley Conference, and was replaced by Ron Bertovich, a former Atlantic 10 Conference Commissioner who had most recently served as the Executive Vice President for Administration for the NHL's Buffalo Sabres.

The 1997-98 basketball season ended up providing the Mid-Con with some of the most memorable moments in league history. Former member Youngstown State gave the Mid-Con its first-ever win in the NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament when it upset No. 5 seed Memphis by a 91-80 score. However, it was a well-designed out-of-bounds play and some last-second heroics by a Valparaiso senior that epitomized "March Madness" for the year.

Valparaiso posted a 70-69 win over No. 3 seed Mississippi in the first round of the 1998 NCAA Tourney, but it was no ordinary victory. With just 2.5 seconds left on the clock and Valparaiso trailing by two, the Crusaders' Bryce Drew capped a set play that included a three-quarters court pass and a lateral by draining a 23-footer at the buzzer. The play not only sent Valparaiso on its way to a "Sweet 16" appearance, but also earned Drew an ESPY from ESPN.

Though some of the Mid-Con's most notable achievements have come on the basketball court, the league's successes are hardly restricted to the hardwood. The Mid-Con has seen many of its student-athletes continue their careers at the professional level in a variety of sports, including Drew, a member of the New Orleans Hornets, and former Wright State pitcher Brian Anderson, a member of the 2001 World Champion Arizona Diamondbacks. In addition, the Conference has boasted several Olympic athletes, including Oakland women's soccer player Anita Rapp, who won a gold medal while playing for the Norwegian women's soccer team at the 2000 Sydney Games, and UMKC's Marcia Daniel, who was Dominica's flag-bearer at the Opening Ceremonies that same year.

Mid-Con representatives have maintained the league's two-decade-long tradition of excellence on both a regional and national level. UMKC tallied a first-round upset over Wisconsin-Milwaukee (2-1, OT) in 2001, the league's first-ever NCAA Men's Soccer Tourney win. Later that year, Valparaiso posted the biggest turnaround in NCAA Division I women's basketball, going 26-7 and reaching the 2002 WNIT quarterfinals. The 2002-03 basketball season was highlighted by the fact the Mid-Con sent four teams - IUPUI and Valparaiso in men's basketball, and Valparaiso and Western Illinois on the women's side - to postseason play in the same year for the first time in conference history. Oral Roberts' volleyball and baseball squads have each made six consecutive trips to their respective NCAA Tournaments since joining the Mid-Con; the Golden Eagle baseball squad reached the regional final in 2002 after knocking off top-seeded and host Wichita State twice in as many days. Oakland has won a game in the NCAA Softball Tournament each of the last two seasons.

Great teams are made up of great student-athletes, and the Conference has certainly had its share of those recently. Rapp earned region Player of the Year honors for Oakland in women's soccer in 2001 before moving onto a career in the WUSA. On the basketball court, both the men and women have had representation on a variety of All-America teams, including Oakland's Mike Helms, who set a Mid-Con single-season scoring record (26.9 ppg) in 2002-03. UMKC's Matt Voelker earned All-America honors in the high jump at the 2002 NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championship, and Oral Roberts' Marsha Dawkins earned All-America honors in the 400 meter dash at both the 2003 NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Track Championships.

Not restricted to success on the fields of play, Mid-Con athletes have made their mark in the classroom as well. The league had numerous Verizon Academic All-District selections in 2002-03, with six student-athletes chosen to Academic All-America teams. Two of those individuals - IUPUI's Tiffany Kyser and UMKC's Jon Kelley - were named first-team Academic All-Americans in women's basketball and men's track and field/cross country, respectively. Kyser was also named as the inaugural winner of the Creamland Dairies College Basketball Student-Athlete of the Year in 2003.

The Mid-Con sponsors 19 championship sports, which includes: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's golf, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's swimming & diving, men's and women's indoor track & field, men's and women's outdoor track & field, men's and women's tennis, and volleyball.

SHREVEPORT-BOSSIER CITY

Centenary College is located two miles from downtown Shreveport, the third largest city in the state of Louisiana. Shreveport is located on the west bank of the Red River in Northwest Louisiana. Over 300,000 people reside in the metropolitan Shreveport area.

Shreveport is considered the geographical, cultural, and economic center of the region known as the Ark-La-Tex, encompassing East Texas, Northern Louisiana, and Southern Arkansas. Shreveport is only a few hours away by car from other major cities such as Dallas and Houston in Texas, Baton Rouge and New Orleans in Louisiana, Jackson, Mississippi, and Little Rock, Arkansas.

Shreveport is separated from Bossier City by the Red River, but many locals consider themselves residents of the Shreveport-Bossier region as a whole instead of one of the specific cities. People who live here think nothing of crossing the river to take in an event, no matter which city is the official host.

There seems to always be a festival going on that shines a spotlight on some aspect of life in Shreveport-Bossier that is unique. In May, the Mudbug Madness Festival celebrates the abundance of crawfish found in the area, while African-American culture is celebrated in June with the Good Times Roll Festival, featuring music, art and food.

One of the major highlights of the year in Shreveport is the State Fair of Louisiana, held every October. The fair features more than 70 rides and one of the finest livestock gatherings in the United States.

Another major event that showcases Shreveport on a national level is the Mainstay Independence Bowl, held in late December. The annual football game, featuring a team from the Big 12 Conference against one from the Southeastern Conference, is carried on national television and showcases the Shreveport-Bossier community coming together to make the event a success.

That is not the only athletic competition held in the area. The CenturyTel Center, a 12,000-seat arena opened in 2000, is the home of minor league hockey and arena football, as well as basketball games and wrestling events. National fishing tournaments and golf tournaments have also been brought to Shreveport-Bossier in recent years.

The area features a wide range of museums, from autos and aviation to science and Elvis Presley. Many of the buildings in downtown Shreveport are now listed on the National Register of Historic Places, and a trip to the piney woods of Northwest Louisiana will yield visits to rural towns such as Vivian, Plain Dealing and Shongaloo, each one with its own collection of treasures, history, and fine dining.

There are plenty of outdoor activities in the Shreveport-Bossier area. From hiking at the Cypress Black Bayou Recreational Area to golfing at Olde Oaks Golf Club, a Hal Sutton signature course and part of the Audubon Golf Trail, there is something for everyone.

Festival Plaza near Downtown Shreveport, where many gatherings are held throughout the year, such as the Mudbug Madness Festival and the Red River Revel.

CENTENARY ATHLETICS

Centenary College of Louisiana has fielded an athletic team in at least one sport since 1894, when the football team faced Louisiana State University. Centenary's football squad was one of the best in the South in the first half of the 20th century, the high point being an undefeated 10-0 season in 1927.

Centenary produced professionals Conway Baker, Buddy Parker, and Cal Hubbard. Hubbard is a member of three halls of fame: Pro Football Hall of Fame, College Football Hall of Fame, and Baseball Hall of Fame. However, the poor oil economy in the area forced the discontinuation of the football program in 1947.

The 1920s saw the establishment of the men's basketball and baseball teams at Centenary. The basketball Gents have had 44 seasons with a .500 or better winning percentage, including the 2002-2003 campaign.

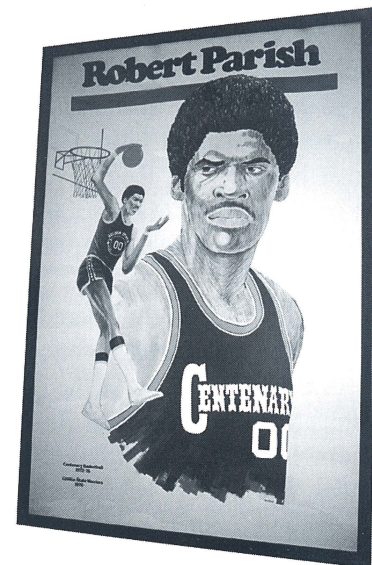

Hal Sutton '81

From 1972 to 1976, Robert Parish dominated Centenary's opponents, leading the Gents to an 87-21 record over that span. Parish still holds numerous Centenary records, including the single game scoring record (50 points vs. Lamar in 1972), the single season rebounding record (18.7 rpg in 1972-73), and the career record for most field goals made (1,034). Parish was drafted in the first round by the Golden State Warriors in 1976 and later, as part of arguably the greatest frontcourt in NBA history, won three NBA championships with the Boston Celtics in the 1980s.

With a new 1,000-seat stadium, the baseball team is attracting top players to play for Centenary and top teams to play against the Gents. Thirty players who put on the Centenary uniform have gone on to play professionally. In recent years, the Gents have hosted Nebraska, Texas A&M, Kansas, Alabama, Arkansas, and Michigan State at Shehee Stadium, with Iowa, Kansas State, Alabama, and LSU among those teams scheduled to visit Shreveport in 2004.

In 1980 the Golf Magazine College Player of the Year did not come from a traditional power. Hal Sutton, a native of Shreveport who stayed home to attend Centenary, won that honor as well as the 1980 U.S. Amateur. Sutton has gone on to win two Players Championships, a PGA Championship, and a Tour Championship, as well as earn a spot on four U.S. Ryder Cup teams.

Recently Centenary athletes have found their names at or near the top of the NCAA rankings. In 2000, women's soccer player Lara Brown led all Division I players in points per game and goals per game. Ronnie McCollum followed suit during the 2000-2001 basketball season, leading the nation in scoring. Andrew Wisniewski picked up where McCollum left off, finishing in the top 20 in scoring and steals during the 2002-2003 season.

With the addition of men's and women's swimming in 2002-2003, Centenary now sponsors 16 intercollegiate sports, as many as any other Division I program in Northern Louisiana. The gymnastics team consistently qualifies for the USAG National Championships, the women's soccer team has won over 65 percent of their matches in the 11-year history of the program, and, most importantly, Centenary's athletes graduate, ready for the real world in whatever field they choose.

For most teams, success on the field is the result of hard work and preparation. At Centenary, the formula is no different as not only do we receive great efforts from our athletes, but from coaches, administration, and alumni as well. As a result, the Gents baseball program enjoys fine facilities in which to train and compete.

Shehee Stadium has served as the home site for all Centenary baseball contests as far back as written history shows. Originally referred to as Centenary Park, the field was renamed in 2001 in honor of Peyton Shehee. Mr. Shehee and his family graciously donated the funds that allowed Centenary to erect a quality grandstand seating area along with a fully functional press box and sound system.

Various other upgrades and additions have been made to the baseball facilities over the past several years. A physical plant building was transformed in 2000 to house a new locker room and three offices for the baseball coaches and staff. New lighting standards were also erected for improved visibility during evening games.

In 2001, a new building for concessions and restrooms was added next to the playing field to provide a better overall experience for all fans that visit Shehee Stadium.

2002 brought on several upgrades to the field area itself. The chain-link fencing that surrounded the field was replaced with a green slatted fence that vastly improved the overall look of the playing field. The fall of 2002 brought a new outfield fence made of aluminum that replaced a weathered and worn wooden fence.

The upgrades continued in 2003 as an unused space below the grandstands was enclosed and converted into a storage area. Just prior to the 2004 campaign, the dugout area was better secured with the addition of a padded rail-guard that serves as a barrier to prevent foul balls from entering the dugouts.

With contributions from generous alumni and friends of the college, the Centenary baseball program will look to continue to make a trip to Shehee Stadium an enjoyable experience for all of those involved.

The Sports Fitness Center is also a crucial component to the success of all of the Centenary Ladies and Gents programs. The $10 million facility, remodeled and expanded, reopened in 2000 with state-of-the-art weight and exercise machines. Players can workout in the facility both on their own and as a team. Other features of the Fitness Center include: hot tubs and saunas, dressing rooms, a pool, classrooms, dance studios, and courts for basketball and racquetball.

In the fall of 2002, the Wilhite Media Room was completed in the Gold Dome. The room features stadium seating, a projector, and sophisticated computer software that allows teams to edit game footage in order to better scout and review opponents. The Wilhite Media Room is most commonly used as a meeting room for teams and staff as well as a working room for the media during events held in the Gold Dome. All press conferences are also held in the room.

THE COLLEGE

Centenary College of Louisiana is a selective liberal arts college offering undergraduate programs in the arts, humanities, natural sciences, and social sciences, as well as a limited number of graduate programs. Students and faculty work together to sustain a community focused on ethical and intellectual development, respect and concern for human and spiritual values, and the joy of creativity and discovery. Consistent with its affiliation with the United Methodist Church, the College encourages a lifelong dedication not only to learning but also to serving others.

In pursuit of these ideals, the College challenges its students to write and speak clearly; to read, listen, and think critically; to comprehend, interpret, and synthesize ideas; to analyze information qualitatively and quantitatively; to appreciate the diversity of human cultures; to respect the value of artistic expression; to realize the importance of a healthy mind and body; and to recognize the interdependence of people and the environment.

Academic Program

Centenary College of Louisiana offers three undergraduate degree programs: the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science and the Bachelor of Music.

The Centenary curriculum aims to produce graduates of extraordinary intellectual and vocational versatility who are prepared to assume responsible positions in their communities and professions. The College prepares its students in critical thinking and in the fundamental communication skills of writing, speaking and numeracy.

The core curriculum begins with the First-Year Experience, which initiates an emphasis on critical thinking and rhetorical skills in an interdisciplinary context. The balance of the core curriculum further develops these skills while it introduces students to basic areas and fundamental techniques of human inquiry. Specific core requirements are the First-Year Experience and selected courses offering inquiry in the humanities, mathematics, natural sciences, and social sciences. Additionally, all undergraduates participate in the Centenary Plan, which involves a service-learning project, career exploration, and an intercultural experience.

Academic Facilities

Centenary has a personal computer for one of every three undergraduates. Every residence hall room is wired for free, direct Internet and computer connections. Some 30 computer laboratories are spread throughout campus, as are numerous multi-media editing and projection facilities. The Magale Library, the academic heart of the campus, has a wealth of volumes, searchable databases, personal computers, multi-media accessories, and software programs.

Specially equipped buildings and facilities include the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse, the Gold Dome, the Fitness Center and Swimming Pool, Mickle Hall of Science, Hurley Music Building, Jackson Hall, Turner Art Center, and the Meadows Museum of Art.

Faculty

More than 90 percent of Centenary's faculty holds the highest degree in their discipline. There are 74 full-time and 41 part-time faculty members, with a student-faculty ratio of 12 to 1. There are no graduate students teaching classes at Centenary. The primary emphasis is on teaching, although research and service activities are also important components of the Centenary experience. These activities involve undergraduates to an extent unavailable at large institutions.

Summary

Academic and co-curricular programs support students in their development and encourage them to become leaders in the work place, the community, the nation, and the world at large.

MAGALE LIBRARY

PRESIDENT OF THE COLLEGE

DR. KENNETH L. SCHWAB President

Dr. Kenneth L. Schwab, President of Centenary College since 1991, has been firmly established as an excellent educator and administrator over nearly 30 years of service. During his career, Dr. Schwab has consistently applauded student athletes who pursue academics and sports with equal fervor, discipline, and high standards, and it is these characteristics that make Centenary Gents and Ladies stand out among their peers.

A tenured professor in the Department of Education, Dr. Schwab hails originally from Indiana where he received his bachelor's degree from Purdue University in 1969. He then earned his master's in guidance and counseling from the University of North Carolina-Greensboro in 1972 and his doctorate in higher education administration at Indiana University in 1978.

Though Dr. Schwab has held many administrative positions at Centenary and other institutions, he continues to pursue his own scholarship as well, publishing a book, numerous articles, and several institutional planning documents regarding presidential leadership and transformational change. Indeed, Dr. Schwab's keen interest in leadership and strategic planning helped Centenary's latest comprehensive campaign raise over $100 million for the college. This amount exceeded the initial goal by over $30 million, enabling Centenary to build two new music facilities as well as renovate residence halls and the fitness center.

These improvements do not merely benefit the campus, though. From the arboretum to the chapel, the playhouse to the library, recital halls to the Gold Dome, Centenary encourages student involvement, preparing scholars for active civic participation. This small liberal arts institution focuses on the student and endeavors to facilitate academic, athletic, and social development for the whole person. Our faculty and staff are committed to these goals, particularly for student athletes.

Dr. Schwab has actively involved himself with Centenary students throughout his tenure here. He team-taught Centenary's First-Year Experience program with the college's Chair of Liberal Arts one semester, and he travels with various Centenary groups like the college choir, always remaining a great Gents and Ladies supporter. In fact, he and the Centenary Gent mascot led the campus as they unveiled the new fitness center.

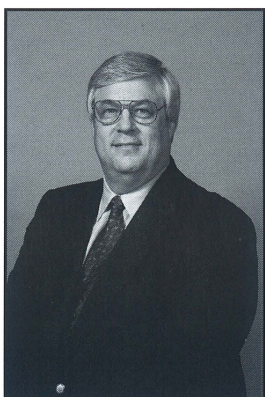

Active on-campus and off, Dr. Schwab participated in the Salzburg Seminar sponsored by the W.K. Kellogg Foundation, served as a European Community Visitor to the Commission of European Communities, and continued his scholarly work at Oxford, Johns Hopkins, and Harvard Universities. He also represents Centenary on a number of community and academic boards, including the Associated Colleges of the South Board of Directors.

Dr. Schwab's wife, Pat, earned her doctorate in education and now teaches a course each semester at Centenary. Their three sons (Kempton, Carlton, and Christopher) played select soccer throughout their school years.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

TAYLOR MOORE
Director of Athletics

Taylor Moore, a Centenary alum and former owner of the Shreveport Captains baseball team, became the College's athletic director on July 1, 2003. Moore replaced Dr. David Bedard, who decided to return to the classroom as a professor of health and exercise science after serving as athletic director for almost four years.

A 1969 Centenary graduate and former Centenary baseball coach, Moore was president and majority owner of Shreveport Baseball, Inc., which operated the Shreveport Captains Baseball Club, until he sold the franchise in 2000. The Captains were a Double-A professional baseball club affiliated with the San Francisco Giants.

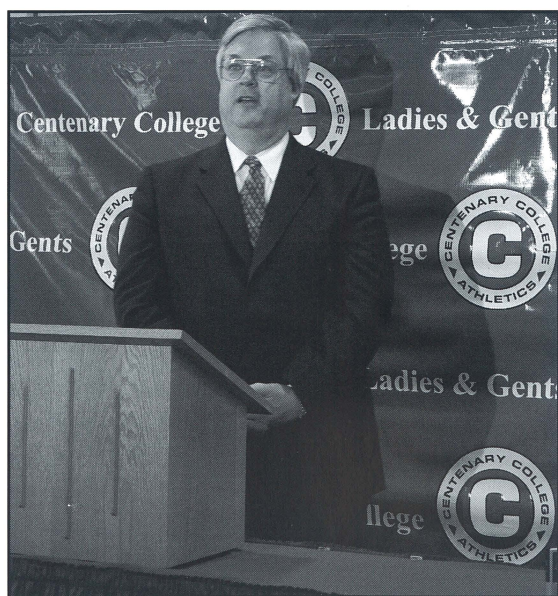

Moore has stayed active within the Centenary community, serving as a board member and former president of the Centenary Gents Club. In 2001 he received the Centenary Alumni Association's highest honor when he was named to the Alumni Hall of Fame.

Moore takes over a program that will begin play in the Mid-Continent Conference this fall after four years as an independent school. He will use his experience in leadership to make sure that Centenary athletics continues to grow and compete in its new home.

"Centenary has an exciting future ahead in athletics and I am pleased and honored to be able to have a part in it," Moore said. "I've been a member of the Centenary family for so long, I feel like I'm coming home. I have great respect for the College and its role in Division I competition."

Moore has been recognized with the Texas League Award of Merit for 25 years of leadership, the Shreveport-Bossier Advertising Federation's Award of Excellence, the Sports Foundation Sportsman of the Year Award and the Shreveport Journal Sportsman of the Year designation.

Long active in local civic affairs, Moore is a board member of the Frost Foundation, the Committee of One Hundred, Crimestoppers of Shreveport and Centenary College. Before taking over as athletic director, he served as secretary and member of the Executive Committee of the Centenary Board of Trustees.

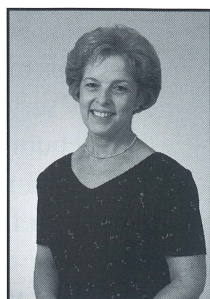

"Taylor Moore can hit the ground running and we are fortunate to have someone of his caliber to lead us into this historic time for Centenary athletics."

HEAD COACH

Head Coach

Ed McCann is in his sixth year as a head coach of the Gents after spending two years as an assistant coach at Centenary. While this is McCann's sixth year as a college head coach, he also has 12 years of assistant coaching experience. McCann led the Gents to the TAAC tournament in the 1999 season, Centenary's last year in the TAAC (now the Atlantic Sun Conference).

McCann began his coaching career as the head coach of Manford High School in Oklahoma from 1979-86. He guided his teams to state playoff appearances from 1983-86 and won a state title in 1984. He was named Oklahoma Coach of the Year in 1985.

From there, McCann began his collegiate experience as an assistant at San Francisco State from 1987-91. McCann then moved on to Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo for the 1992-94 seasons and Ohlone College for the 1995-96 campaigns. He also was a volunteer coach at Stanford in 1992.

A Las Vegas, Nevada native, McCann attended Southeast Oklahoma State University where he graduated in 1977 with a double degree in physical education and english.

In high school, McCann was a three sport all-state athlete in football, wrestling, and baseball, and received All-American honors in football.

McCann, a former English teacher, has a strong commitment to his players' education. This commitment has helped his Gent squads to some of the highest team grade point averages in years.

"The guys have really gotten after it in the classroom over the past couple of years. It takes some adjustment time for a few players, but they realize the importance of good grades and what it can do for them after life on the baseball field."

McCann has excelled in his fundraising efforts on behalf of the baseball team and the athletic department. His accomplishments in this area are evident in the tremendous upgrade in facilities.

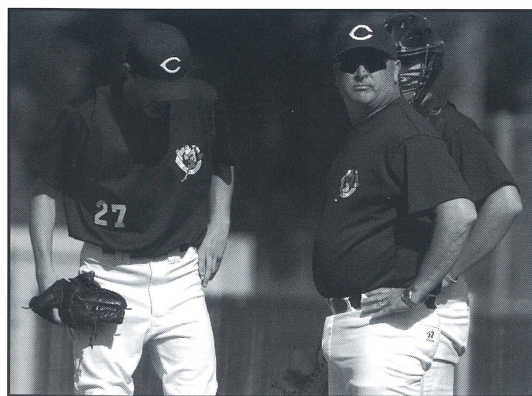

Under McCann's guidance, the baseball program has seen the construction of the Shehee Baseball Stadium completed. The three-year-old stadium includes seat-back chairs, a press box, and a sound system. In addition, McCann has successfully added new lights to the field, a brand new concession stand with restrooms, and a new outfield wall.

"The new facilities give the guys something to play for and they realize that they are beginning a new era in Centenary baseball," said McCann.

In the past five years the Centenary baseball program has come a long way under McCann's guidance.

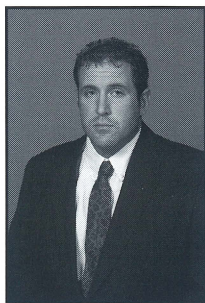

"We have recruited excellent student-athletes both locally and nationally to help complete the turnaround of our program. In addition, with the improvements that have been made to our facilities, we are on our way to being a top-notch program."

McCann and his wife Debbie have two children: Brian and Chase.

SEASON OUTLOOK

CENTENARY GENTS 2004 PREVIEW

The Centenary Gents have an entirely different outlook for the 2004 season than they have had in previous years. For the first time since the 1999 season, the Gents will be competing for a conference championship and an NCAA tournament berth. 2004 marks the beginning of Centenary's membership in the Mid-Continent Conference and the Gents are excited about the opportunity to show the rest of the league their potential. The top four teams advance to the Mid-Con Tournament, which this season is being hosted by Centenary on the Gents' home field from May 27-29.

One of the major strengths of the 2004 team is its versatility. Many players have the talent to play several positions and will do so throughout the year. The offense should also be a strong point for the Gents after adding some key newcomers to a club that hit .300 as a team last season.

Seniors Tony Cardone and Bobby Gilliam will provide experienced leadership both in the field and at the plate. Cardone will man the shortstop position once again where he has been a starter for most of his three years. Cardone will also serve as the personal catcher to pitcher Kevin Willborn. Cardone hit .347 in 2003 en route to being named second team All-Independent.

Gilliam, who is approaching the top five in several Centenary records, will play left field again for the Gents. Bobby led the team with 31 stolen bases while hitting .305 out of the lead-off spot last season.

The rest of the infield will be comprised of four upper-classmen and a sophomore. Seniors Joel Hoffman and Blake Adkison are expected to split time between first base and designated hitter. Adkison started 35 games in 2003 while hitting at a .288 clip with two homers and 28 runs batted in. Hoffman started 22 games, mostly at third base, where he hit .243 for the year.

Senior transfer Jesse Newell will get the starting nod at second base and will supply immediate power from the left side of the plate to the Gents' line-up. Junior college transfer David Kiefer will open the season at third base and will serve as a utility man. Kiefer will also see time at shortstop when Cardone catches and at second base. Another transfer, sophomore Zach James, will assume the catching duties.

Other players that could play a major role in the infield include sophomores Tommy Griffin and A.J. Howes along with freshman Drew Dickson. Griffin could work into the rotation at second base while Howes will be expected to be ready at third base. Both players saw time in ten games last season as freshmen.

Dickson could make a major push for playing time at third base while also appearing on the mound for the Gents.

In addition to Gilliam in the outfield, sophomore Alex Valdivia will be in center field and youngster Jared Vincent will take the spot in right field. Valdivia earned honorable mention All-Louisiana honors last season at third base and second team All-Independent accolades as a utility player.

Primarily a pitcher, J.C. Biagi will serve as the fourth outfielder. Biagi hit .308 in 13 at-bats last season.

Senior Kevin Cassidy will lead the Gent pitching staff after being named first team All-Independent in 2003 after finishing with a 7-5 mark and 81 strikeouts. Other expected starters include; senior David Ruffing (3-6, 4.81 ERA), senior Kevin Willborn (2-7, 7.09 ERA), and Biagi (4-2, 5.34 ERA). Lefthanded freshman Brandon Fulenchek has impressed the coaching staff and could also work his way into the starting rotation.

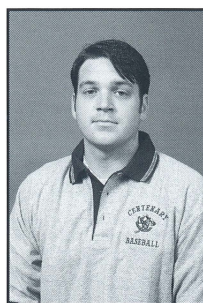

Senior Dan Bria (3-3, 4.50 ERA) will once again be the closer while senior Adam Oakley (1-1, 4.23) and transfer Josh Hill will serve as the set-up men. Other hurlers expected to make trips to the mound include junior Jacob Willett and freshmen Will Kaage, David Kees, and Steven Rodriguez.

The Gents know they have a battle ahead in the Mid-Con as no player on the Centenary squad has experienced play in a conference setting. However, the Gents are already earning respect from the other Mid-Con schools as they were picked to finish third in the preseason poll. The entire poll is as follows: 1st-ORU, 2nd-SUU, 3rd-CC, 4th-WIU, 5th-OU, 6th-VU, 7th-CSU.

SEASON REVIEW

CENTENARY GENTS 2003 REVIEW

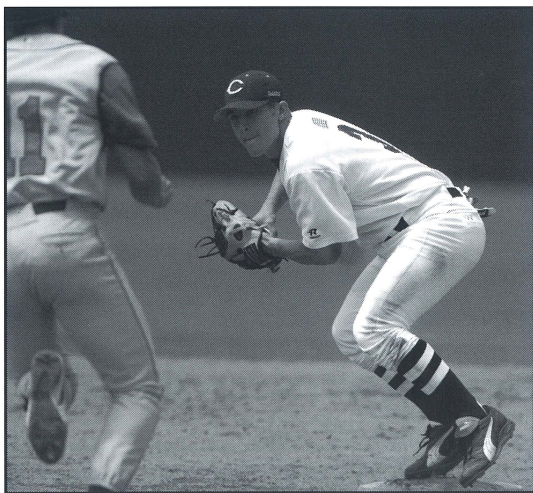

The 2003 season was full of ups and downs for the Gents. After dropping their first two games of the year to Texas-Arlington and Louisiana Tech, Centenary bounced back to take three straight from Prairie View A&M. Bouncing back would prove to be a habit for the Gents as they hovered around the .500 mark for most of the season until they ran into a spell in which they lost 12 of 13 games to finish at 23-33 for the campaign.

The Gents faced several top-ranked teams throughout the season and brought many of them to Shreveport. Centenary fell to #6 LSU at Fair Grounds Field, but also hosted #21 Alabama and #23 Arkansas at Shehee Stadium. The Gents were in the driver's seat for the majority of both those contests, but eventually lost to the Crimson Tide, 11-9, and to the Razorbacks, 14-9.

Centenary also traveled to face top teams such as Alabama, #22 Texas A&M, and #18 Baylor. The best game of the bunch was a 4-3 loss at Alabama. The Gents led late in the game in large part to a one-hit, six-inning pitching performance by David Ruffing. Although the Crimson Tide took the lead, the Gents put together a rally and were in position for the upset but could not get a timely base hit.

Southern Illinois, Michigan State, Hawaii, and San Jose State all visited Shehee Stadium during various stints in the 2003 schedule. The Gents took one of three from Southern Illinois and Michigan State, but dropped both single-game contests to San Jose State (2-1) and Hawaii (3-1).

The Gents struggled on the road as they tied the Centenary single season mark for fewest road wins at two games. Both wins came in blowout fashion as the team easily handled Morris Brown (13-7 and 18-7). Other tough losses away from home included Louisiana Tech, Louisiana-Monroe, Texas A&M-Corpus Christi, and Boston College.

Tony Cardone

Individually, several Gents enjoyed success in 2003. Senior Patrick Beale led the team with a .371 batting average, 54 runs, 76 hits, 19 doubles and 109 total bases. He was the only unanimous first team All-Independent selection last year from any independent school. He now ranks in five Centenary single-season record categories and three career categories despite playing only two seasons with the Gents.

Patrick Jolley was a first team All-Louisiana and All-Independent selection after hitting .344 with seven homers, four triples, and 12 doubles for a slugging percentage of .664 (9th best all-time).

Tony Cardone hit a career-best .347 while leading the Gents with 155 assists from his shortstop position. For his strong play, he was named second team All-Independent. Also receiving All-Independent honors were pitcher Kevin Cassidy and utility player Alex Valdivia. Cassidy finished with a 7-5 record, including five complete games. Valdivia hit .312 in his freshman season while playing several different positions. Valdivia also earned honorable mention All-Louisiana honors.

Bobby Gilliam was named as an honorable mention All-Independent selection for his efforts in the outfield. He stole 31 bases to lead the Gents while hitting .305 and posting an on-base percentage of .413. He also climbed into the top ten of seven Centenary record categories.

Several players had solid debut seasons at the Division I level. Freshman Justin Darr hit .318 in 32 games while throwing out four runners as a catcher. Pitchers Adam Oakley and Dan Bria also contributed heavily in their first year with the Gents. Both transfers, Oakley finished with a 1-1 record with a 4.23 ERA in 16 appearances and 38.1 innings of work. Bria earned a 3-3 record and a 4.50 ERA while striking out 34 batters in 36 innings on the hill.

Although the Gents ended the season below .500, the team showed flashes of their potential. With some key additions in 2004, the Gents could be the team to watch in the Mid-Con.
